

Ann M. Modica

Consultant, CapM Corporation

amodica@capmcorp.com

www.capmcorp.com

(949) 481-6507

Executive Summary:

Ann Modica has over 15 years of experience as an economist, providing economic and financial analysis for the litigation and financial services industries. Ms. Modica received a Bachelor of Arts in Economics and a Masters of Business Administration from the University of Chicago.

Business Experience:

Ms. Modica has extensive experience in litigation support services, including the analysis of several hundred economic loss cases involving wrongful termination, wrongful death and personal injury, as well as marital dissolutions and business valuations. Ms. Modica is qualified as an economic expert in Federal court and has testified in a number of military court marshal matters as a damage expert.

Her prior work experience includes working as a research assistant to Merton Miller, the 1990 winner of the Nobel Prize in Economics and she also worked with the Wellington Management Company in the Economics Group.

Ms. Modica has experience in several industries, including financial services, retail, construction, and insurance.

Ms. Modica is currently a consultant for CapM Corporation, a financial and accounting consulting company specializing in business valuations, litigation support, and finance and accounting analysis.